"The potentially contradictory nature of Moscow's priorities surfaced first in its policies towards East Germany and Yugoslavia," (Crockatt, 1995, p. 1).

Book Citation in Bibliography: Baxter, C. (1997). Race equality in health care and education. Philadelphia: Ballière Tindall.

Chicago

Incorporates rules of grammar and punctuation common in American English. Typically, Chicago style presents two basic documentation systems: (1) notes and bibliography and (2) author-date. Choosing between the two often depends on subject matter and the nature of sources cited, as each system is favored by different groups of scholars.

presents bibliographic information in notes and, often, a bibliography

Every artist gets asked the question, “Where do you get your ideas?”
The honest artist answers, “I steal them.”

How does an artist look at the world?

“The only art I’ll ever study is stuff that I can steal from.”

—David Bowie

Nothing is completely original.

It's right there in the Bible:

“There is nothing new under the sun.” (Ecclesiastes 1:9)

French writer Andre Gide put it,

“Everything that needs to said has already been said.

But, since no one was listening, everything must be said again.”

“What is originality? Undetected plagiarism.”

—William Ralph Inge
